Louisiana Cane Growers To Visit

Louisiana sugar growers and processors will make their annual tour of Florida sugar cane areas January 6-12. Gilbert Durbin, general manager of the American Sugar Cane League, said Tuesday in New Orleans.

Durbin said the Louisiana delegation would visit old and new Florida cane farms and new cane processing factories.

A top attraction scheduled for a visit is the Canal Point experiment station, where new cane varieties are bred for Louisiana.

Durbin said Louisiana sugar cane producers were particularly interested in seeing how Florida is reacting to damage done by the mid-December freeze.

Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Mullis had as their holiday guest, this week, his son, Tim Mullis, of Cocoa.

March Of Dimes Has Many Workers

One of the most intensive recruiting drives ever staged to sign up volunteer workers, is now going on across Palm Beach County under the direction of Mrs. Neal Wellman, who has been named county chairman for the annual Mother's March to be held as part of the January March of Dimes fund campaign.

Mrs. Wellman, West Palm Beach, who last year headed the State American Legion Auxiliary, said she hopes to recruit one of the largest volunteer groups ever assembled throughout the county.

Past March of Dimes drives, she said, have pointed up the importance of the Mother's March as one of the principal fund raising efforts. For this reason and because this is the Silver Anniversary of the campaign, it is the hope of campaign leaders that this year's marching mothers will number in the thousands instead of hundreds as in recent years.

The women of Palm Beach County, Mrs. Wellman said, have always given generously of their time in this cause and have proven themselves to be the kind of workers able to produce the results so necessary in this type of fund raising campaign.

County To Update Its Road Survey

Plans for updating the county's origin and destination survey which sets out a long range system of highways for Palm Beach County, are being completed this week by the County Commission.

At its meeting last Friday, the board, at the request of the State Road Department, adopted a resolution asking that the survey made some time back, be brought up to date. The work will be done by the state, the same agency which made the original survey setting out the county's highway needs for 20 years.

Principal reason for the up dating, according to Edward Mueller, state road board official, is to make sure that the highway program for Palm Beach County will fit into plans for Federal aid. A recent congressional act says that no highway not in the planning stage by 1965, will not be eligible for certain types of Federal assistance. Mueller called the updating and continuing study of the road plan, insurance against loss of federal aid.

Mueller commended the county board for its foresight of several years ago in initiating the long range survey—a move which today puts Palm Beach County far ahead of other South Florida counties in mapping future needs.

Here Is What Transpired At Monday's Meeting Of The Palm Beach County Commission

The Palm Beach County Commission, which for several months has been seeing its sub division road improvement program hard hit by spiraling prices, may put county crews to work on the improvements rather than letting private contractors do the work.

The whole problem stems from recent bids received from the commission which topped estimates by dollars per front foot. The latest price hike came last week when the commission heard that an important program on a subdivision street had been estimated to cost more than $8 per front foot. The commission noted that a street in the same subdivision only a few months ago was improved for about half that amount.

The commission ordered its engineering department to make a minute study of improvement costs in an effort to determine if the county could put its own forces to work on the subdivision jobs.

The entire commission said the improvement program is one of the most important assists that it can give to property owners. Under the plan, the county does the work which is eventually paid off on the installment plan by residents whose property is located on the improved streets.

In recent weeks, some improvement jobs have been junked after property owners heard final estimates on the work.

In other actions at its last meeting, the commission:

Heard that short term investments of county funds during the past year had returned interest in the amount of $31,450—up about $25,000 from last year.

Heard that August Weybrecht, a long time county employee, had been named to the State's Industrial Safety Committee.

Heard that the county's new Welcome Station at the north county line will be ready for use by mid January.

Authorized traffic signals for the intersections of Lantana Road and Congress Ave. and Lahtana Road and Military Trail.

Heard that electrical and water service for the Belvedere Swim Club, Inc., a firm operating near International Airport, had been cut off due to inability to collect utility bills.

Named Vice Chairman E. F. Van Kessel and Acting Engineer George Frost, to represent the board at a meeting January 17 called by the U. S. Engineers to discuss an improvement plan for Jupiter Inlet.

Voted to negotiate with the state educational television commission for use of county lands as a site for a TV tower for an educational TV station to serve Palm Beach Junior College and Florida Atlantic University.

"Youth For Christ" Washington Meeting

A group of young people from this area joined others in West Palm Beach Wednesday, and went by train to attend the "Youth for Christ" meeting being held in Washington, D. C. Those making the trip are: Sharon Johnson, Carolyn Maxson, Paula Gail Bryant, Gale Sears and Joy Sims from Canal Point, and Carol Mae Hatten, Bruce Boynton and Keith Padgett from Pahokee.

The Farm Front

A solution remains to be found for the problem of abundance that has been plaguing the nation's dairy industry. Increasing milk production and failure of consumption to keep pace is causing deep concern about the industry's future prospects.

A national farm publication warns "this is not the time to take a flyer in dairying . . . CCC (Commodity Credit Corporation) stocks are piling up . . . Prices will increase this winter but will stay below last year's prices until April."

So, you can expect to see a push for new dairy legislation revived during the coming session of Congress. At the last session the Administration failed to obtain approval for its suggested plan to put the brakes on milk production, so the farm bill which emerged did not include a dairy section.

Congress failed to adopt the proposals to give dairy farmers a choice of voting for higher price supports coupled with reduction of output, or an open market with minimal price supports.

There have been other proposals made, and at a recent meeting of the National Milk Producers' Federation Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman urged the industry to get together, speak up "with one voice" and say what it wants.

He made it clear that it is up to the various producer organizations to agree on a program that has good prospects for boosting dairy income, cutting present heavy surpluses and reducing their cost to the taxpayer. "Time is running out," he warned, and stressed the point that "as a practical matter we do not have the political muscle to continue the present program for long."

He cited the changing complexion of Congress—the gain of 19 new House seats by urban and city areas in the last election — "19 seats which were taken primarily from rural areas." Present dairy legislation, he said, creates "a situation which spells danger to us all—and for the simple reason that the American people will not permit the situation to continue indefinitely."

One of the big difficulties in obtaining effective farm legislation is to get unity of support from farmers themselves. All viewpoints have a right to be heard. Strong support for conflicting proposals makes it tough on legislators to decide what plan, if any, to adopt. And any plan should measure up to legislative responsibility to the public interest.

The day after he talked to the dairy group, Secretary Freeman stressed the matter of unity when he spoke to the National Potato Council. That industry, too, has been having its own problems of abundance, said he:

"Effective answers to your problems will not be easy to put into operation. Even to reach agreement on the answers is difficult. But, if six nations in Western Europe, with a history of centuries of armed conflict among them, can get together and work out a mutually satisfactory long-range economic and social development program, I am confident that the American potato industry should be able to do as well in solving its problems."

"Freeze-drying" promises to be one of the next big developments in food processing. It can reduce weight by 90 per cent and increase storage life by as much as two years. Certain kinds of foods, however, do not lend themselves to the new treatment as well as others.

As reported by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, the new process was introduced commercially in the past three years but the products are not yet in retail stores. So far they are being sold to institutions and food manufacturers. It has prospects of becoming a Billion-dollar industry by 1970.

According to an industry definition, freeze-drying is "a unique food preservation process that removes moisture from frozen foods without appreciably changing the shape, color or taste of the product. Cellular structure remains intact."

Freeze-drying is accomplished by sealing frozen foods in special drying cabinets, where air is pumped out and low-level heat is slowly applied. As the temperature rises, ice in the frozen product is vaporized until 98 per cent of the moisture is removed.

Nitrogen is put into the chamber to replace the oxygen in the food. This inert gas retards spoilage. Once this is done the product is ready for packaging. It is now dehydrated, not frozen, and may be stored at room temperature—as long as two years.

Offer Location For Hospital Site Retarded Children

Palm Beach County is scheduled to offer the state a site for a proposed hospital for care of retarded children—an institution which the state hopes to build in South Florida.

The commission has given Chairman Lake Lytal authority to contact Governor Farris Bryant and offer county-owned lands as a location for the proposed hospital. Lytal said original plans had been to build the institution in Broward County but some difficulty is being experienced in finding a site in that area.

The commission chairman said the hospital is badly needed, and it will offer employment for a number of people.

"Today we need a nation of Minute Men citizens who regard the preservation of freedom as a basic purpose of their daily life"

—JOHN FITZGERALD KENNEDY

10 days after his inauguration as the 35th President of the United States.

Twenty years ago, in the dark, uneasy days before Pearl Harbor, the Minute Man of Concord, timeless symbol of our Nation's determination to defend its freedom, emerged as the emblem of the U. S. Savings Bonds Program. When war came, the Minute Man became the rallying force behind the huge and overwhelmingly successful effort to back our fighting men with War Bonds.

In this, the 20th anniversary year of Savings Bonds, the Minute Man of Concord calls all Americans to an unremitting effort to help preserve our peace and freedom, threatened by forces more powerful and resourceful than those we faced in 1941. Though this effort will take many forms, one way open to all is the continued investment in Shares in America, U. S. Savings Bonds, by "citizens who regard the preservation of freedom as a basic purpose of their daily life."

Budget Hearings In Making For State

TALLAHASSEE—Budget hearings, now underway before the Cabinet and legislative leaders, indicate some top state officials will receive sizeable salary raises during the coming biennium.

Several agencies which have submitted their budgets provided salary hikes for directors, executive secretaries, commissioners and like positions. Other budgets slated to come before the cabinet will no doubt continue the trend of pushing salaries for top administrators to an average of about $15,000 a year.

Increases have been requested for President John Allen of the University of South Florida, Florida Atlantic University President Kenneth Williams and off-campus Institute of Continuing Studies head Myron Blee.

The three members of the Railroad and Public Utilities Commission, Jerry Carter, Wilbur King and Ed Mason have asked for increases. Other proposed hikes include the Nuclear Commission director, Hotel and Restaurant Commission, Industrial Commission chairman, director of the Internal Improvement Fund, State Auditor, Purchasing Director and Motor Vehicle Commissioner.

By tradition, the cabinet doesn't submit pay raises, but leaves such action up to the legislator.

Pahokee Is On Top Basket Ball Loop

It's a three-way leadership tie in the Suncoast Conference basketball chase as the teams are taking a break through the Yule holidays although a majority of them will participate in a couple of holiday tournaments this week in West Palm Beach and Vero Beach.

Forest Hill and Riviera Beach, the defending co-champions, each won four in a row in the two weeks of action before the break while Pahokee surprised with three straight in the league and made it four with a non-league romp over Moore Haven Friday night. Percentage-wise it's a triple tie although the Blue Devils are a half-game back of the champs.

But Forest Hill seems to have the edge on the others. The seasoned, tall Falcons won every start by 20 or more points, while the other two have been repeatedly pressed. Riviera won its pair last week by 1 and 5 points respectively with neither decision assured until the final minute. Pahokee's three winning margins haven't exceeded 8 points. The Falcons, on the other hand, came close to two league records with a rare three-figure output Friday in drubbing guest Belle Glade 101-62.

Seacrest won twice to take fourth spot and Stuart grabbed fifth with a 64-53 success at winless Vero Friday.

The teams will resume Jan. 2 and Pahokee immediately gets an acid two tests of its ability, entertaining Forest Hill Jan. 2 and Seacrest Jan. 4. Stuart visits Forest Hill Jan. 4, so the race either will open up that week or become tighter than expected. Seacrest's lone loss was to Riviera which faces two relatively weak outfits in the first January week.

Coffee Compliments Miss Sue Sheridan

Mrs. I. Marshall Lair and daughter, Miss Bonniu, entertained at their home on East Main Street, Pahokee, Sunday afternoon, with a coffee in compliment to Miss Marilyn Sue Sheridan of Canal Point whose marriage to Frederick T. Hickerson, Jr. took place on Christmas Day.

Guests, in addition to the college friends of the honoree, were her mother, Mrs. Ralph Maxson, and the mother and sister of the groom-elect, Mrs. Fred Hickerson, Sr., and Mrs. Charles Jernigan.

A Christmas motif was used in decorating and approximately 25 guests called during the afternoon. A gift was presented to Miss Sheridan by the hostesses.

All-Conference Teams Has Many Locals

Runnerup Pahokee, with three choices, dominated the 1962 All-Suncoast Conference football team chosen by the nine rival coaches and announced today by the conference commissioner's office.

Champion Belle Glade and third-place Seacrest each placed two players on the mythical eleven, and four other schools landed one player each on the club. Seven schools are represented on the second team, with Lake Worth, Seacrest, Ft. Pierce and Stuart having two each.

Lone unanimous choice was guard Ivan Mish of Seacrest who was second team all league last year.

The teams: First Team—ends, Jack Coons, Lake Worth, and Rob in Melton, Ft. Florida Greeters Named By Bryant

TALLAHASSEE—Gov. Farris Bryant has urged all Floridians to become official Florida Greeters and "join with me and the Florida Development Commission in extending to all our visitors a warm welcome" to the state this winter.

Friendliness is Florida's greatest attraction," the governor said in talks over radio and television stations. "This year, to make our visitors feel even more welcome, we're starting a new kind of club, the Florida Greeters Club."

Those joining the club, according to the governor, will receive a free Florida Greeters kit containing a windshield sticker that says "Welcome Visitor! Ask me! I'm an official Florida Greeter!" The kit also contains an official membership card and a Florida Vacation Guide.

Florida residents may join the club by sending their name and address to Florida Greeters, Tallahassee.

New $3\frac{3}{4}\%$ interest on U.S. Savings Bonds

The Treasury explains why the new ones you buy and the ones you own now are better than ever

Q: How does the new $3\frac{3}{4}\%$ interest rate benefit me?

A: With Series E Bonds, the rate turns $18.75 into $25.00—fourteen months faster than the old rate. Your savings increase faster, because your Bonds mature in just 7 years, 9 months.

With Series H Bonds, the 10-year maturity period stays the same but more interest is paid you each six months. With both E and H Bonds the new rate works out to $2\frac{1}{2}\%$ for the first year and a half; then a guaranteed 4% each year to maturity.

Q: When did the new rate become effective?

A: June 1, 1959.

Q: Does the new rate change the Bonds I bought before June 1, 1959?

A: All older E and H Bonds pay more now—an extra $\frac{1}{4}\%$ from now on, when held to maturity. The increase takes effect in the first full interest period after June 1.

Q: Will the Bonds I own automatically earn their new rate?

A: Yes. You don't need to do a thing—just hold on to your Bonds.

Q: When my E Bonds mature, will they keep on earning interest?

A: Yes. An automatic 10-year extension privilege went into effect along with the new interest rate. This means your E Bonds will automatically keep earning interest after maturity.

Q: With the new interest rate, should I cash in my old Bonds and buy new ones?

A: No. The automatic $\frac{1}{4}\%$ increase makes it unnecessary—and in almost every case it is to your advantage to retain your present Bonds.

Q: How are series H Bonds different from series E Bonds?

A: The chief difference is this: You buy H Bonds at full face value and the interest is paid by Treasury check every six months for the life of the Bond. You buy E Bonds at 75% of face value and the interest accumulates to maturity. H Bonds provide income for living expenses, while E Bonds build a nest egg for the future. That's why many retired people hold H Bonds and families saving for, say, a child's education, buy E Bonds.

Q: In what denominations can I buy series E and series H Bonds?

A: E Bonds: $25 (cost $18.75), $50 (cost $37.50), $100 (cost $75.00), $200 (cost $150.00), $500 (cost $375.00), $1,000 (cost $750.00), $10,000 (cost $7,500.00).

H Bonds: $500, $1,000, $5,000 and $10,000. They are priced at face value.

Q: How safe are U.S. Savings Bonds?

A: Savings Bonds are an absolutely riskless way to save. The United States Government guarantees the cash value of your Bonds will not drop, that it can only grow.

Q: What if my Bonds should be lost, stolen or destroyed?

A: You can't lose. Every Bond purchased is recorded by the Treasury. If anything happens to your Bonds they are replaced—free.

Q: Where can I buy Bonds?

A: Buy E Bonds at any bank—it takes only a few minutes. Buy them automatically through the Payroll Savings Plan where you work. This Plan means you can have any amount you name automatically deducted every payday. The Bonds you buy by installments are delivered to you automatically, too. Your bank will take your order for H Bonds.

Q: How do I help strengthen America's peace power when I buy U.S. Savings Bonds?

A: Peace costs money—money for military strength and for science. And money saved by individuals helps keep our economy sound.

YOU SAVE MORE THAN MONEY WITH U. S. SAVINGS BONDS

Real Plump Santa Visits Chapter Party

An old fashioned southern Christmas dinner party was held, last Thursday, at the home of Mrs. J. T. Boynton, on East Main Street, Pahokee, by members of the Xi Alpha Mu Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi Sorority, with their husbands attending as guests.

Gifts were exchanged by secret sisters in the chapter, with husbands also receiving gifts. W. S. (Bill) Plumer served as Santa Claus and distributed the presents from a decorated tree. George Tucker, Jr., led the group in the singing of traditional Christmas carols.

Those on the hostess committee assisting Mrs. Boynton were Mrs. C. S. Davis, chairman, Mrs. W. S. Plumer, Mrs. Norman Kennedy and Mrs. Pope Sears.

Lewis Friends Have Holiday Guests

Holiday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Friend are their daughter, Miss Cyndy, who is home from the University of Florida, and their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Korbly of St. Petersburg. Additional guests of the Friends on Wednesday were Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Bishop of West Palm Beach; Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Bishop, University of Tennessee Dental School, Memphis, and Mr. Mrs. Jerry B. Jackson and son, Jerry, Jr., of Murphysboro, Tenn.

Cantata At The Nazarene Church

"Emmanuel Forever," a Christmas cantata, was presented by the choir of the Pahokee Church of the Nazarene, under the direction of Mrs. Max Jones, wife of the pastor, in the church sanctuary Sunday morning. A play, "Christmas in the Cobbler's Shop," was given by the young people of the church at the evening service.

Mr. and Mrs. Billy R. Mosley were hosts at the annual Christmas party for the youth of the church which was held at their home on Bacom Point Road. The children brought gifts to the party for distribution to the underprivileged.

HOME FROM JACKSONVILLE

Mr. and Mrs. O. R. Bleech returned Wednesday from a holiday visit with his brother-in-law and sister, Rev. and Mrs. C. P. Parker and family in Jacksonville. Enroute they visited their son and daughter-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. David Bleech and family in Okeechobee.

Sue Sheridan Weds Fred Hickerson, Jr.

The marriage of Miss Marilyn Sue Sheridan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Maxson of Canal Point, to Frederick Thomas Hickerson, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred T. Hickerson, Sr. of Pahokee, was solemnized in a double ring ceremony at the Canal Point Methodist Church, Christmas Day, December 25, at 7 p. m. Rev. Max Jones officiated at the candlelight service as the couple stood before an altar decorated with baskets of white pompons and gladioli against a background of palms and greenery.

Miss Sharon Johnson, pianist, played the traditional wedding marches and accompanied Miss Betty Johnson, soloist, as she sang "Whither Thou Goest" and the "Wedding Prayer."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was lovely in a floor length gown of peau-de-sole which originally had been the wedding dress of her aunt, Mrs. Terry Smith. The fitted bodice, sprinkled with pearls, featured a portrait neckline, and the skirt of the gown, fashioned with lace inserts, ended in a chapel train. Her bouffant veil of French illusion was attached to a headpiece studded with seed pearls and she carried a cascade bouquet of lilies of the valley and satin streamers centered with three white orchids.

Miss Bonni Lu Lair, maid of honor, wore a gown of deep rose, fashioned with a full skirt and a rose-trimmed bustle. Her headpiece was a satin-rose with matching veil and she carried an old-fashioned bouquet of pink carnations. Misses Gloria Smith and Linda Rabin of Belle Glade, bridesmaids, and Miss Brenda Maxson, sister of the bride who was junior bridesmaid, wore dresses identical to that of the maid of honor, and they carried similar bouquets.

Tommy Gulterson of Pahokee served as best man for the groom and the ushers were Francis Eric Boe and Jeff Barwicki.

Mrs. Maxson, mother of the bride, chose a pink beige sheath with matching accessories for her daughter's wedding and she wore a white orchid corsage. Mrs. Hickerson, mother of the groom, wore an embossed silk sheath of magenta, with matching accessories. A white orchid corsage completed her costume.

The Misses Carolyn Maxson, Joy Sims and Sharon Johnson, cousins of the bride, assisted at the reception which was held in the social hall of the church following the ceremony. Miss Maxson served the cake, Miss Sims presided at the punch bowl and Miss Johnson had charge of the bride's book. The refreshment table was laid with a cloth of white lace and centered with an arrangement of pink sweetheart roses and fern. The scene was lighted by white tapers in silver candelabra.

For traveling, the bride wore a three-piece pink suit and her corsage was the white orchids from her bouquet.

Following a honeymoon on the East Coast, the couple will make their home in Miami where they both plan to attend the University of Miami.
